Insights and Teaching Contexts

3. Enhanced understanding of research techniques applicable to dance education research and advanced scholarship and an ability to apply some in practice

Assessment
Subject knowledge and understanding is assessed through written assignments and, in some instances, practical assignments ranging from essays to action plans and portfolios. Practical modes of assessment include the evaluation of practical teaching (as in MAE704 and MAE705) and conducting a focus group interview (MAE708).

Skills and Other Attributes - Intellectual / Cognitive Skills

1. Conceptual understanding that enables critical evaluation of current research and advanced scholarship within one or more defined areas or teaching contexts within dance education
2. Enhanced knowledge of learning and teaching and/or leadership through observation, reflection, analysis and/or evaluation
3. Ability to relate examples of theoretical research to professional practice and draw on personal experience to extend ideas and debates on dance education

Learning and Teaching Strategies
Cognitive development is achieved through reflective practice, on-line peer group discussion and the individual tutoring system. Advanced level critical skills are embedded in the reading and tasks in each Module Study Guide.

Assessment
All assessment modes provide opportunities for students to demonstrate high level thinking skills. The essay in module MAE701 engages students in critical evaluation of the relevance of selected research to their own professional practice. These critical skills are part of all module options.

Skills and Other Attributes - Professional Practical Skills
If students undertake a practice-based module option, they will develop:

1. Enhanced skills in teaching within specialist areas through application and critical reflection
2. Flexibility and creativity in the application of knowledge to practical teaching
3. Ability to act autonomously in the planning and implementation of practical tasks at a professional level
4. Ability to respond to the needs of learners and make sound judgements

Learning and Teaching Strategies
Practical skills will be delivered as part of an Induction Seminar which introduces students to key issues in dance and dance education practice. MAE704: Inclusive Dance Practice and MAE705: Somatic Approaches to Dance Education provide further opportunities to develop practical teaching skills in a specific area. MAE703: Leading Learning and MAE708: Assessment Issues in Dance Practice provide students with an opportunity to implement particular research methods.

Assessment
Throughout the programme, students will engage in informal practical tasks. Specific module options also provide opportunities for formal practical application of theories and concepts. This engagement provides students with opportunities to utilise practical skills drawn from modules into their teaching.

Since all students are experienced dance teachers, some of whom have significant professional experience, the assessment of practical teaching is not a focus of the programme except where specialist skills are required (as in MAE704 and MAE705).
Skills and other attributes - Key / transferable skills

1. Ability to analyse and critically evaluate complex concepts and ideas
2. Ability to reflect upon practice in relation to existing scholarship
3. Ability to construct informed, authoritative and lucid debate which engages with recent thinking
4. Ability to communicate ideas with coherence and clarity, using advanced verbal and non-verbal skills, including advanced ICT skills

Learning and Teaching strategies

The essential reading materials and further reading in each Module Study Guide introduce complex concepts, theories and debates to challenge analytical, critical and evaluative skills. The nature of work-based and distance-learning study ensures that communication and problem solving skills are central. Student-led and tutor-guided modes of study encourage independent reflective practitioner/learners able to progress their own learning and communicate research findings with clarity.

Assessment

The range of written assignments allows students to demonstrate concise writing, and may involve analysis, self-reflection, description and critical evaluation.

20. Programme structure – including the route / pathway / field requirements, levels modules, credits, awards and further information on the mode of study.

- The Postgraduate Diploma in Education (Dance Teaching) is studied over two or three academic years part-time by distance learning.
- On successful completion of the Postgraduate Diploma in Education (Dance Teaching) students may progress to study at postgraduate diploma or Master’s level.
- The programme is divided into modules to the value of 15 or 30 credits. Each 15 credit module is indicative of 150 hours of learning and each 30 credit module is indicative of 300 hours of learning. The study hours for each module comprise tutor contact, private study and assessment.

23. Assessment regulations

All of the Royal Academy of Dance’s university-validated programmes adhere to the Faculty of Education’s General Regulations, Programme Specific Regulations and Code of Practice on Assessment of Students’ Work within Taught Programmes and any relevant regulations of the validating university.

24. Support for students and their learning

The Faculty of Education provides the following mechanisms to support students throughout their studies:

- Induction Seminar (IS): Students attend a five-day induction to the programme prior to the start of Semester 1. The IS enables individuals to meet fellow students, tutors and administrators. Prior to the IS, students receive an Induction Seminar Information Booklet which provides pertinent information and a timetable of sessions.

25. Quality management – indications of quality and the methods for evaluating and improving quality

Quality assurance (QA) processes are informed by and responsive to external governance as dictated by the Office for Students, Quality Assurance Agency, Department for Education and OFSTED.

Management of FoE QA process is governed internally by committee, and through various reporting lines to the validating university, which also reviews the quality of teaching; programme design and development, assessment, internal and external validation, student feedback; and student experience.

All staff engage in research and professional engagement to keep abreast of subject knowledge and pedagogy. All new staff receive comprehensive induction and are supported in their first year of appointment by more experienced tutors. All staff undergo regular peer review of their teaching and annual appraisal which includes review of research interests. In addition, regular INSET and FoE Planning Days provide opportunities for ensuring all staff are fully conversant with QA.

Programme design is maintained and developed by systematic review of module content and programme specifications against assessment and moderation, student performance, External Examiner reports, student and staff feedback on completion of each module and again at the end of the programme. Each programme undergoes an Annual Programme Review (APR) from which action points are drawn for implementation/review in the next academic year. APR reports are submitted to the FoE’s Head of Quality Assurance and Dean.
